In general Israeli nationals do not require a visa to enter Germany. They can apply for the necessary residence permit from the Foreigners Authority upon arrival in Germany.

The application fee of 75.- Euro has to be paid in cash in NIS only.

In certain cases additional documents might be required.

Please note: Foreign students are only allowed to work in Germany for up to 120 full or 240 half days per year. Participants in intensive language courses are not allowed to enter into employment at all.

Financing your studies

You have to provide the Embassy and Foreigners Authority with evidence that you are able to support yourself financially throughout the first year of your studies. The estimated monthly costs of living correspond to the highest rate of monthly support provided under the German Educational Assistance Act (BaföG).

From November 2020: 861.- Euro per month; 10.332.- Euro a year.

The following options are possible:

1. Opening a blocked bank account

When applying for visa you can provide evidence that you are able to meet your living costs by opening a blocked bank account. You have free choice of provider. Information on providers offering this service worldwide is available on the Federal Foreign Office website.

2. Formal letter of obligation from Germany

Another proof is to submit a formal letter of obligation (Verpflichtungserklärung) which can be signed by a sponsor residing in Germany. The formal letter of obligation can be signed at the local Foreigners Authority (Ausländerbehörde). A person not residing in Germany can sign such a letter only in case he is having sufficient assets or income in Germany.

3. Official scholarship

Receiving an official scholarship would also prove the ability to support yourself financially throughout the first year of your studies.

4. Financial background of the parents

It is possible to show the financial background of the parents of the student. Salary slips and bank statements of the last three months of the parent(s) must be submitted together with a signed declaration and a passport copy of the parent(s). It must be clearly and without any doubt obvious that the parents can finance the annual living costs of 10.332.- Euro.

After entering Germany the student has to open a blocked bank account and transfer the amount of 10.332.- Euro to this account.

German Foreigner's authority might otherwise refuse to extend the study visa.

Please note that it is not possible to make photocopies in the embassy. If your documents are not in English or German a translation into German is required. Documents in English don't have to be translated.
