

Promotion of social and economic development through micro-projects

The programme of micro-projects of the Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany provides funds to local beneficiaries under the aspect of social, humanitarian and charitable assistance. Its focus is on underprivileged groups in the society.

Applications for 2021 have to be submitted by 15 February, 2021.

Which kinds of projects can be funded?

The programme aims at supporting independent measures in the field of social and economic development that can be funded from the initial stage to its final completion. A project that falls in the range of the 17 United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) generally qualifies to receive funds. The proposed project should respond to specific emergencies among the population and meet the needs of the most vulnerable sections of society.

Micro-projects should have an immediate impact and be implementable within a period of three months or, at the latest, before the end of October of the current year. The approval of the Israeli authorities for the project is mandatory. Projects that are already being implemented are not eligible for funding.

Who can apply?

Applications may be submitted by NGOs, self-help-groups and communities based in Israel.

What is the amount of support?

The allocation depends on the income and the costs of a project. Therefore an effective financial plan has to be submitted with the application.

In general the support must not exceed the equivalent of 5.000 Euro in NIS. Applicants are expected to bear a reasonable share of the costs of the project. Costs for personnel as well as administrative and running costs (“overhead charges”) cannot be funded.
